

Prayer for Dinner, Monday March 5, 2007

It's been really nice having Bill write the past few prayer letters ... but it's slipped up on us again, and we both forgot, and here it is midnight! We spent the afternoon trying to figure out where to put everybody Monday night. It looks like we could have almost 50 – yikes! It's going to be too cold to sit outside ☹ I'm thinking about serving the food in the driveway as they come in, and putting the desserts in the bedroom, then they can just sit everywhere else! What do you think??

It's country/western with grilled chicken and lots of good stuff on the side. Wish you could be here – but don't know where we'd put you! Gene Crawford is bringing a bluegrass band, so once again the music will be something to write home about. We do have lots of fun – but of course it's our hearts' desire that all these folks will come to know Jesus if they don't, and to love and trust Him more if they do. We also know that God uses it as a time of encouragement to those going through treatment.

As you pray for strength and joy and a strong witness for our team, please also pray for the many that have been through disasters this week:

- Those across the South who experienced such devastation from the tornados – especially Enterprise, AL and Americus, GA.
- The injured and the families of those who died in the tragic bus accident here in Atlanta.
- The students and teachers at Gatlinburg High School (where we have 2 grandchildren) where 2 students died in separate accidents this past week, several students were kidnapped by a mother who was denied custody, and over 500 acres burned in a wildfire on Cove Mountain.

I'm sure that all of you have your own prayer needs, and we appreciate your willingness to hold us up before the Lord. We pray for you, too, and if you have any special requests email me --- I put them over the kitchen sink and pray for them often!

Love to all of you,
Margaret – for Bill and the Team
